Why Delay?

The longer you put off the rest and recreation that your system needs, the harder it will be to recuperate. If you will take a day, now and then, and go to Haleiwa you will find such relief from the ills from which you have suffered that you will not know yourself.

BLANKETS NEEDED
IN WAIALUA HILLS

The climate at Opaepa, in the hill section of the big Waialua plantation, has snap enough to it to suit the most fastidious. The following extracts from a letter from D. W. Shelhamer, received yesterday, don't sound much like a tale from the tropics. "I'll bet you don't sleep under as many blankets as I do. The thermometer has been ranging around in the 50's up here all this week, 50 deg. being the coolest, but it is good to be alive, especially when it doesn't rain. Last Monday was so clear I could see the gulches on Kauai, and for two days the outlines of that island were very plain to be seen. The bracing air here in the mornings, fresh from the hills, with pheasants crowing and skylarks singing, make me think there are many worse places to live than by the Opaepa dam site. My health is so good just now that getting up at half-past five and being out with the Japs all day on the ditch is a regular picnic. Inclosed please find money order to renew my subscription to the Advertiser; I can't keep house without it."

SOMETHING NEW!

Hawaiian enameled jewelry in designs not yet copied. I will sell large oval-shaped belt pins for $3.50, former price $6.50; beautiful coat-of-arm pins for $2.00, formerly $3.50; small size $1.25, also hatpins for $1.50. Everything in proportion. Come and see them. You will save 50 cents on the dollar, and I will still make a fair profit. G. Dietz, 1066 Fort Street.
